

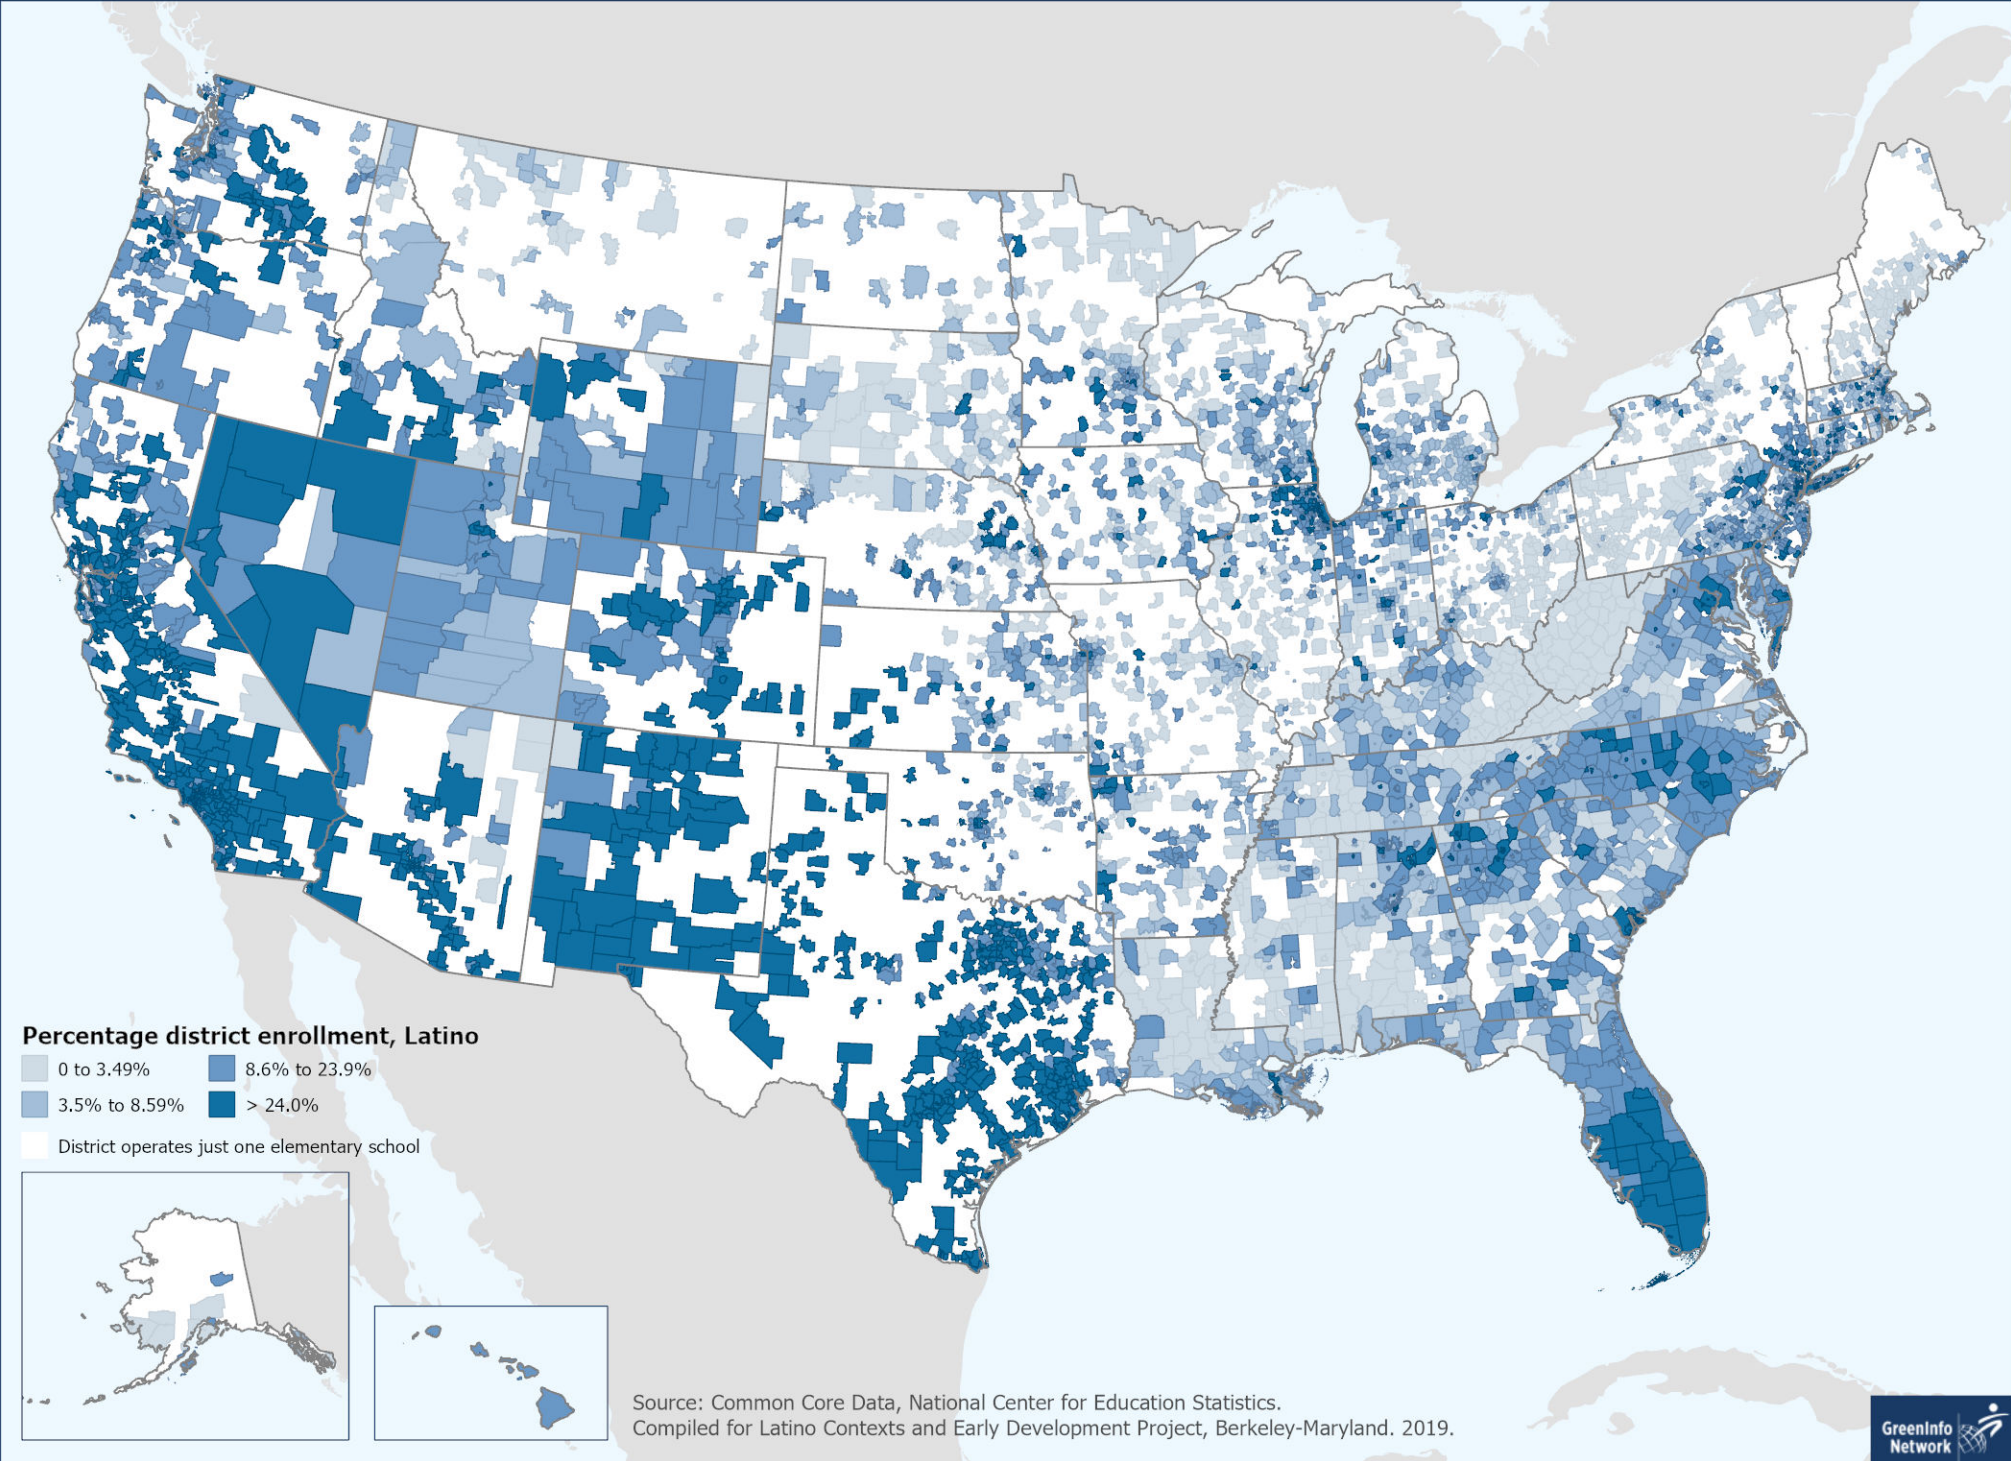

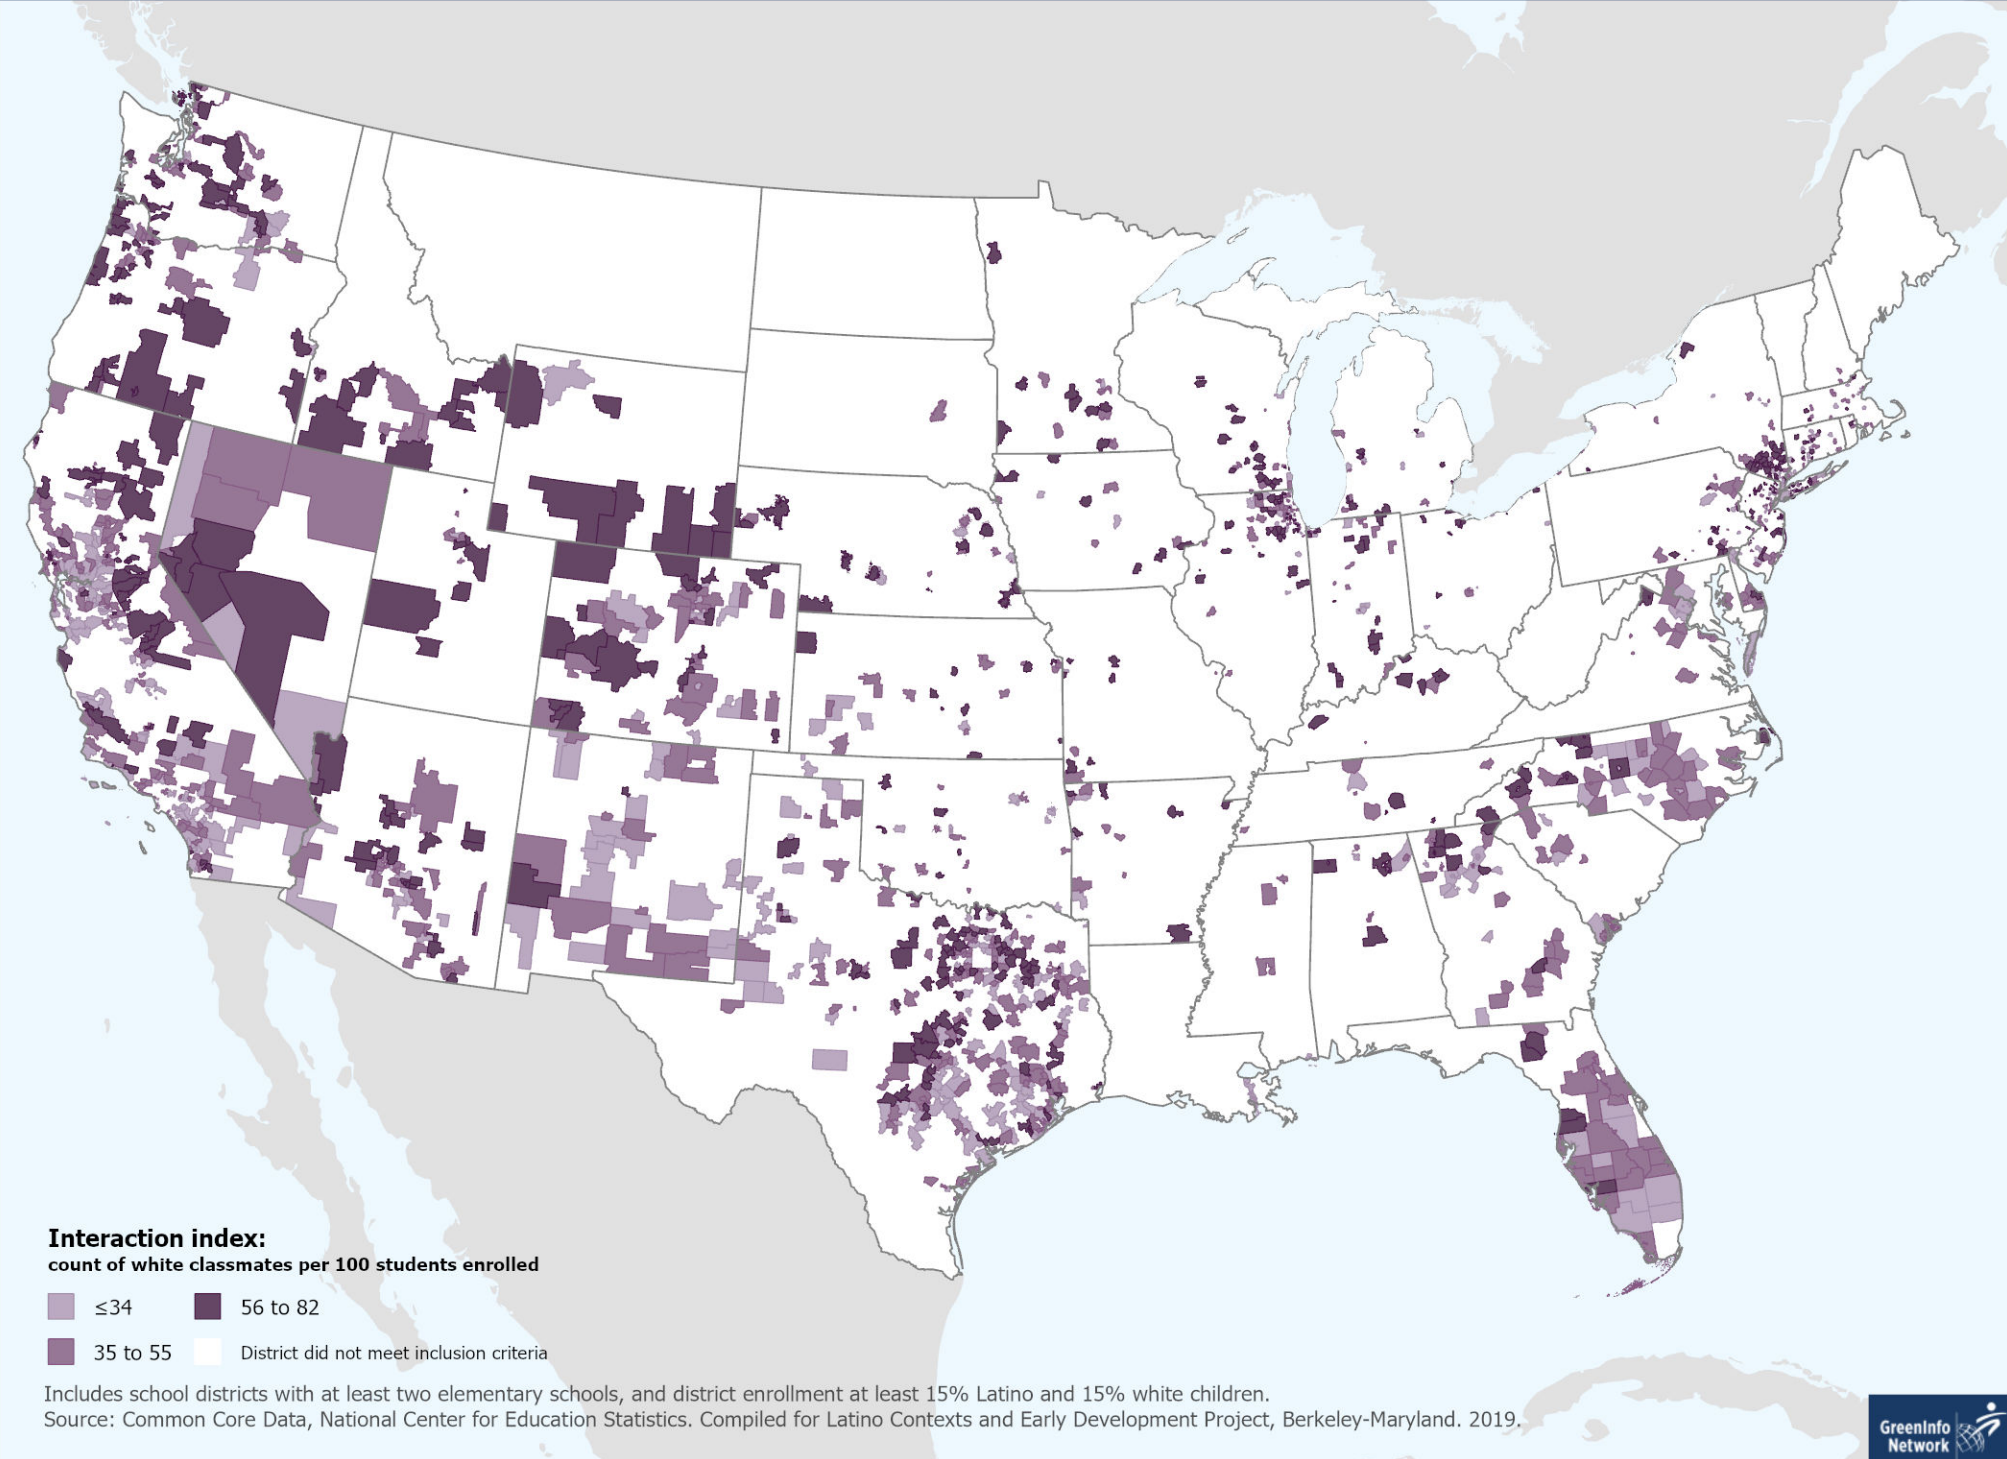

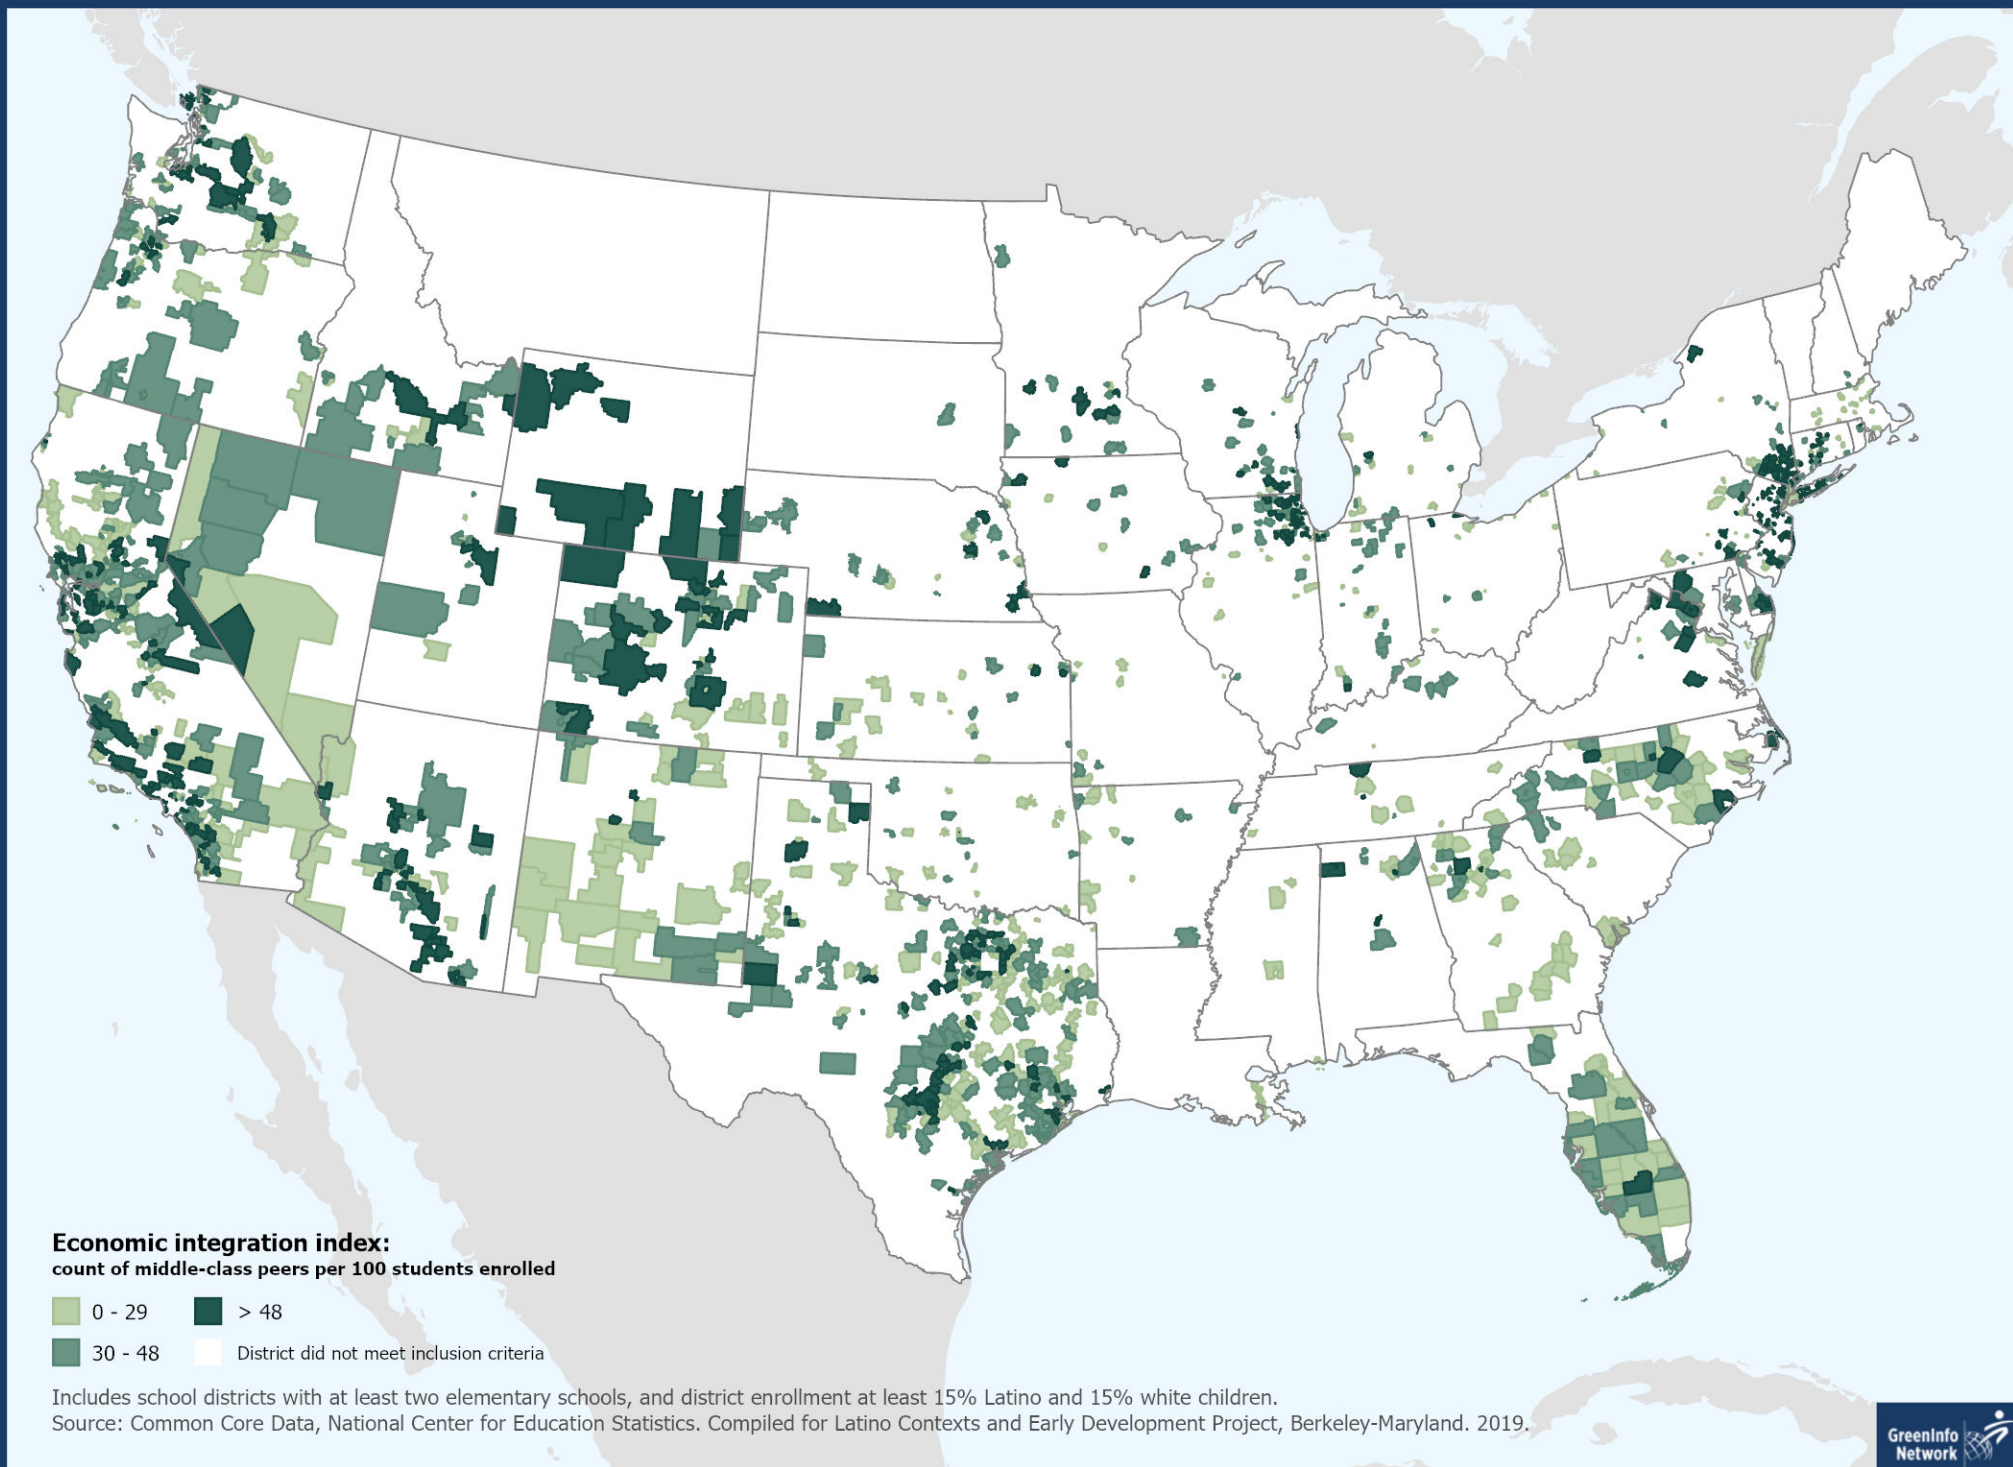

Map 1. Percentage of elementary students enrolled, Latino, in 2015 for districts with at least two elementary schools (where integration is possible)

Map 2. Racial interaction index for school districts: Estimated count of white classmates attending same school of randomly selected Latino child per 100 children enrolled, 2015

Map 3. Economic integration index for school districts: Estimated count of middle-class peers attending same school of randomly selected poor child per 100 children enrolled, 2015

Varying segregation levels among local school districts

NEW YORK STATE, 2015

The average Latino child attends an elementary school where X in every 100 classmates is white:

School district	X in every 100 classmates is white	% district's pupil enrollment, Latino
New York City Schools	22 in every 100	35%
Albany	16 in every 100	18%
Buffalo	15 in every 100	20%
New Rochelle	22 in every 100	47%
Yorktown	73 in every 100	16%
Yonkers	13 in every 100	57%
White Plains	22 in every 100	58%

Varying segregation levels among local school districts

D.C. – MARYLAND – VIRGINIA, 2015

The average Latino child attends an elementary school where X in every 100 classmates is white:

School district	X in every 100 classmates is white	% district's pupil enrollment, Latino
District of Columbia	11 in every 100	20%
Arlington County, VA	32 in every 100	28%
Fairfax County, VA	28 in every 100	26%
Manassas City, VA	16 in every 100	64%
Montgomery County, MD	18 in every 100	31%
Frederick County, MD	40 in every 100	16%
Talbot County, MD	49 in every 100	17%

Varying segregation levels among local school districts

CHICAGO AND UPPER MIDWEST, 2015

The average Latino child attends an elementary school where X in every 100 classmates is white:

School district	X in every 100 classmates is white	% district's pupil enrollment, Latino
Chicago Public Schools	9 in every 100	46%
Columbus, OH	23 in every 100	11%
Cleveland, OH	24 in every 100	15%
Indianapolis, IN	19 in every 100	25%
Minneapolis, MN	21 in every 100	19%
Springfield, IL	14 in every 100	47%
Urbana, IL	35 in every 100	13%

Varying segregation levels among local school districts

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, 2015

The average Latino child attends an elementary school where X in every 100 classmates is white:

School district	X in every 100 classmates is white	% district's pupil enrollment, Latino
Burbank Unified	40 in every 100	34%
Culver City Unified	23 in every 100	39%
Glendale Unified	48 in every 100	23%
Long Beach Unified	8 in every 100	57%
Los Angeles Unified	5 in every 100	74%
San Diego Unified	14 in every 100	47%
Santa Barbara Unified	19 in every 100	69%

Varying segregation levels among local school districts

FRESNO – SACRAMENTO – CENTRAL VALLEY, 2015

The average Latino child attends an elementary school where X in every 100 classmates is white:

School district	X in every 100 classmates is white	% district's pupil enrollment, Latino
Fresno Unified	8 in every 100	69%
Clovis Unified	36 in every 100	39%
Sanger Unified	11 in every 100	67%
Modesto Elementary	12 in every 100	68%
Sacramento Unified	14 in every 100	40%
Elk Grove Unified	18 in every 100	26%
San Juan Unified	35 in every 100	24%

Varying segregation levels among local school districts

SAN FRANCISCO BAY AREA, 2015

The average Latino child attends an elementary school where X in every 100 classmates is white:

School district	X in every 100 classmates is white	% district's pupil enrollment, Latino
Oakland Unified	5 in every 100	44%
Mt. Diablo Unified	19 in every 100	43%
West Contra Costa Unified	6 in every 100	56%
San Francisco Unified	12 in every 100	29%
Napa Valley Unified	22 in every 100	56%
Santa Cruz Elementary	45 in every 100	39%
San Jose Unified	14 in every 100	55%
Eastside Union Elementary	9 in every 100	61%
Santa Clara Unified	17 in every 100	34%
DATA FROM UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, BERKELEY		Info: shruti_bathia@berkeley.edu